Future of Johnsonian Rests In Hands of Student Body

PRESIDENT AND MRS.

KINARD ENTERTAIN DECIDE

Charming Reception Held at President's Home—Y. W. C. A. Sponsors Event

Girls Will Solicit Subscriptions From Room to Room

By an act making "The Johnsonian" subscriptions official this year, Winthrop students as yet confined with the vital question, "How can we save the world?"

the reception given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kinard on the night of September 11. The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. of the University of Virginia students were invited to attend between the hours of eight and ten o'clock.

Members of the Y. W. C. A., Captain J. W. Smith, and the Y. M. C. A., Board met the guests at the porch and presented them to the two receiving lines. Lucille Acker, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Mrs. J. W. Kinard, David and Mrs. Snyder, Miss M. T. Smith, Mrs. D. B. Johnson, Virginia Steudt, Mrs. Ellen E. Wardlaw, Mrs. J. W. Kinard, and Mrs. J. W. Kinard, were in the first receiving line. The second line consisted of Virginia Hall, Drucilla G. Virginia Baskins, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Kautman, and Dr. Sylvia Allen.

After having been introduced to the receiving lines, the students were directed to the refreshment table which was placed on the garden lawn. Miss Sadie Goggin and five college papers?

Like any other organization, "The Johnsons" must have its financial basis. The Johnsons are not the only organization to have a newspaper maintaining the standard of "The Johnsons." In order for it to be published this year every girl at the University of Virginia must contribute a dollar. This is only two and three cents a day. Since your college paper asks for it to like it only sends to the Johnsons. The Johnsons do not support it is simply not wanted by you.

"The Johnsons" is yours, it represents you and your college life. It represents the Johnsons. It is a method of intellectual and social contact between you and students of other colleges. "The Johnsons" is the only newspaper in the world. The Johnsons are going to remain, on account of a few cents, a remain in the news. The Johnsons are going to remain, on account of a few cents, a remain in the news. It is not an illusion that you lack something that other students have.

ated presided over the table under the other Misses Stuchlik and Willey, assisted by three girls, were hostesses at the second punch bowl. Miss Chick, assisted by several girls, received at the third table. The girls were dressed in formal attire.

The softly illuminated lawn, the general company, and the atmosphere of cordial hospitality made the night memorable to the students of Winthrop's social affairs.

CHANGES ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

Public Room Annex Near West Completion—Other Changes Are Noted

Several noticeable improvements were made on Winthrop campus during the past week.

For many years the "Public Room" has been a popular gathering place for the students of Winthrop College. It has not only been a college newspaper, it may be called a "good" newspaper, and has been a popular place among the college papers and sometimes even the best.

Of course, every student knows that the "Public Room" is a place where the newspaper is published. This fact alone makes it almost impossible for Winthrop to have named to be a business place in the college newspaper.

The afternoon girls will every day be published on the Winthrop campus. This time they will be published on the campus will have a college paper.

DEPARTMENT OF GRADUATE WORK

An annex to the dining hall is now under construction. It is to be located to the side on which the kitchen is located. The structure is to be 43 by 75 with a seating capacity of 360. The main entrance is to be on the second floor, a feature of the fire-proof structure; a fire escape will be on the west side. The basement will serve as a storage room for the food supplies. Plans will be completed by November 1.

The most beneficial and attractive improvement to the student body is the new gymnasium which is now located in Main Building to the rear of the supply office. For each room in this gymnasium is a small box with a telephone for the students to call to the girls to whom it belongs. Not only is this plan safe, but more attractive than the iron boxes in the separate restrooms. Therefore, the students are expected to use the gymnasium to the exclusion of the room of Bancroft, McLaugh and Netherly.

Increasing Registration Reported in New Department Now Definitively Organized

This year marks a tremendous advance in the purification of Winthrop College. Graduate work has been definitely organized. All the students have been a genuine graduate there. This is a growth demand the college had long needed. Last summer the type had been reported as being in the process of doing graduate work. A number of these were reported as graduate students taking work leading to an M. A. degree. A large number of these students were not in the graduate work, while others are merely doing further study.

The school has been presenting problems, it is felt, that will be possible for nearly everybody in the teaching field to take up over two courses on a graduate basis. They may find appropriate

The playing girls have registered for gymnastics: Sally Hartman, Mary Kay Harter, Stacey Caroline Todd, Elizabeth Calkins, Margaret Hulse, Margaret Chatham, Martha Miley, Margaret Russell, Margaret Whitcomb, Sherwood Cannon, Mildred Allen.

For these attractive features added to the campus, the student body joins in a word of approval and sincere appreciation.

FRESHMEN ENTERTAIN SOPHOMORE CLASS

Arts & Talent Show by Newcomers at Joint Student Friday, September 15

The Arts and Talent show entertainment program was presented Friday night September 15, at 6:30 in the gymnasium. Here the Freshmen presented a program of unusually interesting numbers.

Margaret Jackson of Sumner was and to the ringing of the college chimes walked down beautiful Oakland Avenue to the various churches for Sabbath worship.

This custom for all students to attend church together at their first Sunday at the college never ceases to be impressive. Many spectators, Sunday, witnessed the passing of another Winthrop church line.

The students of the class of '31 have had their first additional line for the last time; those of 1933 for their first time.

"TO BE OR NOT TO BE"

Every right-thinking, loyal Winthrop student wishes Winthrop to be a college of which she can be justly proud. It is the duty, and should be the pleasure, of each one to carry on the tradition and to hold high the standards that have prevailed on the campus since its founding. One's devotion to the Alma Mater is largely determined by the ambitious spirit which she puts into college activities.

In the handbook for this year we said, "The Johnsonian, the weekly and official news publication of Winthrop College, wishes to be a true reflector and a worthy guide of campus life. Our aims remain the same. Can you, looking frankly and fairly at the situation, commend any course other than the undivided support of the entire student body?"

Seniors, will you not recast the statement, "Because of non-support during the year 1923-24, the Johnsonian was discontinued?" As alumni, such a remark will prove humiliating to you.

Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen, we appeal to you for aid in reaching a necessary goal. Make your college respected and admired, outstanding among others throughout the state and South.

In this community of more than sixteen hundred people a newspaper is of vital importance. It is a medium of communication, an essential factor in building up foreign esteem, and a moulder of public opinion. A state college would be deplorably lacking without a newspaper.

Too much has already been said of school spirit. Talk is cheap. We want to see forceful and emphatic action taken quickly.

I. T.

WHAT IS COLLEGE TO YOU?

It is what you make it and how you take it—this college life. It gives to you what you put into it. It can mean much or it can mean little. It can spell success or failure, satisfaction or dissatisfaction, depending upon your attitude. Your career depends on you yourself; what will you make of it?

Why did you come to college? Be that as it may, you are here. Will you enter into the spirit of Winthrop; will you uphold its name; will you strive to live up to its ideals? Then you are a chosen student of Winthrop, a wholesome sport and a loyal friend, whom the college needs and welcomes. Try it and prove it—that in giving your best to your school, the best will come back to you.

You ask what the college aims to do for you. Herwin W. Rice says it strives to train the student mind to think truly and clearly, the student heart to feel deeply, the student will to choose justly, the student aesthetic faculty to appreciate fittingly, the student conscience to do right, and to train the whole person to serve by serving unceasingly. Will you allow Winthrop to do so help you?

Being a Winthrop College woman is, indeed, a privilege and a challenge to the highest ideals of womanhood. Show South Carolina the kind of young women it supports.

Burgh S. Johnson, Jr., grandson of the late Dr. B. B. Johnson and Mrs. D. B. Johnson, has come to Rock Hill for the winter. He will attend Training School Kindergarten.

Lila Moore's brother, Frank, of Chester was on the campus last Sunday.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT HOLDS FIRST MEETING

President Kinard Addresses Gathering Held in Main Auditorium Thursday Night

The first meeting of the Student Self Government Association of Winthrop College was held in the Main Auditorium Thursday night, Sept. 11. The meeting was called by Virginia Smith, president of the Association. Those serving on the program were Louise Celand, campus chairman, who in a very clever way reminded the students of the things that should be done, and those that should not be done; Mrs. Agnes Crews, dining room chairman, who impressed upon each one the importance of the responsibility that she shared—that of making the dining room a well-regulated place. A lovely piano and organ duet was given by Willie Sanders and Mary Elizabeth Pauling.

In the words of Virginia Smith, the meeting would not have been complete without the presence of a few words from "some one whom we all know and whom we all love, Dr. Kinard." He first of all praised Winthrop for its self-government. There have been comparatively few cases of offense brought before the Board and Dr. Kinard gave a brief survey of the cases which have occurred between the years of 1922 and 1923. His purpose in this was to sound a warning to the student body, saying, "It is much better to think before than afterwards. Experience of mankind has taught that it is better to do right than wrong." Since parents are fond—sometimes perhaps too fond—of their children he warned the students not to ask those to satisfy some foolish desire at the risk of breaking the college rules. He established one "children proof" parent's would become a law and by-word.

In Dr. Kinard's last words he advised all the students to "get a philosophy of life to settle on a line of conduct before you are the times that can be done and those that can not."

The banquet of the Student Self Government Association is approaching. The constitution requires that these banquets be held in the fall.

In the state there are seven separate districts. Those chapters outside the state are affiliated with these seven. Dates for the meeting in five of the state districts have been stated definitely. They are as follows:

Central District, Mrs. Julian Seale, President.
Sept. 26, probably at Hattiesburg.
North Central District, Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, Chester, President.
Oct. 1 at Chester.
Southern District, Miss Genevieve Scott, Greenville, President.
Oct. 10 at Union.
Northwestern District, Miss Carrie Moore, Anderson, President.
Oct. 31 at Seneca.
Southern District, Mrs. Malcolm McGraw, Charleston, President.
Oct. 7 at Charleston.
The Eastern District, of which Mrs. McLaughlin Burch of Lake City, is President has not set a date for its meeting but has the Western with Mrs. Leroy King of Blackville as President.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Monday, 5 P. M.—Meeting of Freshmen Councilors.
Tuesday, 5 P. M.—Cabinet Meeting.
Friday, 4-6 P. M.—Tea in honor of Mrs. Grauel.

TEA FOR MRS. GRAUEL

Outstanding among Y. activities of the week was the tea given for Mrs. Claire K. Grauel Friday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock. It was a real pleasure to have Mrs. Grauel on the campus again. The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and the Freshmen Councilors were the hostesses of the afternoon. The members of the Advisory Board, Miss Erskine, and Miss Hunt, were guests. The Music Room in Johnson Hall was lovely with its decorations of autumn flowers and blue candles. Punch and sandwiches were served.

VEPERS IN RODDIEY COURT

On Wednesday evening the regular vesper service was held in the beautiful Roddedy Court. The subject for discussion was "Why the 'Y'?" Miss Sadie Grogan, speaking from the faculty point of view, told what she thought the Y. W. C. A. contributed to campus life. Lucile Acker, president of the Y. W. C. A., mentioned several Y. activities which proved that that organization is worth-while.

Special music planned by the music committee under the direction of Gertrude Sanders was particularly enjoyed.

Everyone liked the outdoor setting for vespers so well that if the weather permits, vespers will be held there regularly.

FACULTY RECEPTION SATURDAY EVENING ENJOYABLE OCCASION

On Saturday evening the faculty of Winthrop College enjoyed a reception given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kinard. The guests assembled on the lawn around the beautifully illuminated fountain where introductions were pleasantly made.

President and Mrs. Kinard received, assisted by the following new faculty members: Miss Pattle Dowell, Miss Margaret Bell, Miss Esther Hereth, Miss Jane Gough, Miss Elizabeth Wardle, and Miss Gladys Smith. Misses Bishop, Andrews, Hoffman and Bird presided over the punch bowl.

MISS ZANA WILSON FROM WINTHROP'S SISTER COLLEGE

Among the new workers on Winthrop campus this year is Miss Zana Wilson of Tupelo, Miss., who is Baptist student secretary. She comes here from one of Winthrop's sister colleges, Mississippi State College for Women, at Columbus, from which she was graduated last June.

For the past four years she has worn the required navy blue costume of her college, and so, she says, she "feels quite at home" among her Winthrop colleagues.

As a student at M. S. C. W., she was a leader in scholastic, social, and religious activity. She was a member of the Student Government Council and of the Y. W. C. A. Due to scholastic records and activity points she was chosen as a member of the honor societies, The Torch, The Lantern and The Star and Sentinel. She is a member of the national society, Alpha Sigma Phi, and of a local social club, P. O. A. She worked with her college publication, The Spectator, as a member of the Press Club and as advertising manager. During her senior year she was president of the Baptist Student Union.

Her recent experience on a campus and her personality have fitted her to become the friend and adviser of all the Baptist girls. Her aim is to cooperate with the Y. W. C. A. and other religious organizations to improve the spiritual life of the girls, and to make them happy in their four years here.

Miss Wilson says, "The high intentions of the Winthrop students to go to college and to make college life worth-while, along with their keen interest in the things of life impress me."

DR. AND MRS. G. G. NAUDAIN HAVE INTERESTING TRIP

Dr. G. G. Naudain, Mrs. Naudain and the latter's sister, Marguerite Gannath after summer school visit in New York city for a month. Dr. Naudain took a special course in personnel and college administration work in New York University as the guest of the University. The group drove in their car from South Carolina to New York city, going by way of Norfolk, Va., and the Delaware Peninsula and returning by the Gettysburg Battlefield and the Shenandoah Valley. In Delaware they visited the first original home of the Naudains, French Huguenots, who settled in this country. Visiting an old cemetery in that neighborhood, they found numerous monuments bearing the Naudain name carrying inscriptions of doctors, army officers, a senator, etc., which traced a degree the family's genealogy. Upon their return to South Carolina Dr. Naudain left for the middle west, for a two-weeks' visit with his parents in Iowa.
